PREFACE

Universal Reality is originally complete in itself. The male and female aspects are merged in such a perfect balance in it that there arises no feeling of awareness of these two aspects. Only bliss and oneness exists. This is the state of perfect I-ness (Puran Ahanta) - i.e. the state of the Absolute.

Shiva as the primal stage of creation has projected Shakti. The two are so deeply joined that they are unaware of their difference. They also do not fall within the usual references of time. They are essentially beyond Time. The difference only takes place within the contemplation of Man and this World.

Shiva Mahimnastrotra or the hymn of the greatness of Shiva is regarded as one of the superb expositions in devotional literature in Sanskrit. From the view point of poetics it is grand in its scheme and similes. Though the hymn is short only of 32 verses yet the canvas of devotion that its author has spread is highly inspiring. Ascribed to Puspadantcharya we do not know the exact date of its composition but undeniably it is very old.

Shiv Mahimnastrotra constitutes an essential part of Shiv Pooja or Upasana and for Kashmiri Pandits the invocation of Shiva is incomplete without the recitation of Shiv Mahimnastrotra. The very recital of this hymn is enough to elevate one to a higher plane of existence.

For the benefit of English knowing people who have no deep knowledge of Sanskrit we present an English translation with the hope that after knowing the meaning of the verses the devotee will be better equipped to appreciate the wonderful deep and sublime spiritual bliss contained in it. Needless to mention that no translation of this Hymn can bring out the dignity and grace of the original.

I express my thanks to S/Shri Dr. Jaikishan Sharma and Pradeep Koul Khudbali for having gone through the proof copy of Sanskrit portion and English portion respectively.
